Automatically Collected Information and Anonymous Information

Each time a visitor comes to the Website, AmerisourceBergen Foundation collects some information to improve the overall quality of the visitor's online experience, including product/service monitoring, product/service improvement, and targeted advertising. Such information may include referral data (e.g., the address of the last URL a user visited prior to clicking through to the Website) and your web browser and operating platform type.

1. Aggregated Data: In addition to collecting these types of information, AmerisourceBergen Foundation collects aggregate queries for internal reporting and targeted advertising. AmerisourceBergen Foundation also counts, tracks, and aggregates the visitor's activity into AmerisourceBergen Foundation's analysis of general traffic flow at the Website. To these ends, AmerisourceBergen Foundation may merge information about you into aggregated group data and other databases. In some cases, AmerisourceBergen Foundation may remove personal identifiers from Personal Information and maintain it in aggregate form that may later be combined with other information to generate anonymous, aggregated statistical information. Such anonymous, group data may be shared on an aggregated basis with AmerisourceBergen Foundation's affiliates, business partners, service providers and/or vendors; if it does so, AmerisourceBergen Foundation will not disclose your individual identity (except as permitted under this Privacy Policy).
2. Web Server Logs and IP Addresses: An Internet Protocol ("IP") address is a number that automatically identifies the computer/machine you have used to access the Internet. The IP address enables our server to send you the web pages that you want to visit, and it may disclose the server owned by your Internet Service Provider. AmerisourceBergen Foundation may use IP addresses to conduct Website analyses and performance reviews and to administer the Website.
3. Cookies and Web Beacons: Cookies are pieces of information that a website transfers to a user's computer for purposes of storing information about a user's preferences. Cookies in and of themselves do not personally identify users, although they do identify a user's computer. Many websites use cookies as a standard practice to provide useful features when a user visits the site and most web browsers are set up to accept cookies. AmerisourceBergen Foundation may use cookies to improve your online experience when visiting the Website. Some third-party advertisers may use their own cookies. You may stop or restrict the placement of cookies on your computer or remove them from your browser by adjusting your web browser preferences. If you do so (and such cookies are in use on the Website), you may still use our Website, but it may interfere with some of its functionality.

Some of Website's web pages may use web beacons in conjunction with cookies to compile aggregate statistics about Website usage. A web beacon is an electronic image (also referred to as an "action tag," "single-pixel," or "clear GIF") that is commonly used to track the traffic patterns of users from one web page to another in order to maximize web traffic flow and to otherwise analyze the effectiveness of websites. Some web beacons may be unusable if you elect to reject their associated cookies. We may use the information we collect to serve you more relevant advertisements.

4. To improve the Website, AmerisourceBergen Foundation tracks Website activity using Google Analytics. For more information, please refer to Google's Privacy Policy: <http://www.google.com/policies/privacy/>
